

Deep Roots. High Standards.

It's our 5th Anniversary

Adams Harris is a growing professional services firm where proven professionals assist clients in reaching their goals. This year marks our 5th Anniversary, and in celebration, we would like to share news with you about our firm, including:

PCI QSA Certification

The Payment Card Industry (PCI) Data Security Standard (DSS), developed by the PCI Security Standards Council (SSC), an organization created by the major credit card companies, has certified Adams Harris as a Qualified Security Assessor (QSA). Find out if your company is compliant with the PCI DSS v2.0 Standard by contacting us today. We have the expertise to help you evaluate, achieve, and maintain PCI compliance.

“ WE HAVE GREAT PEOPLE, PERIOD. ”

— Rob Dennison, President & CEO

We are hiring. Our internal audit, accounting and finance, corporate tax, and technology practice areas are in high demand. We are looking to expand our strong team by welcoming accountable, client focused, and experienced professionals with integrity. Please visit the careers page on our website to search current opportunities.

Tax Deadlines?

Increased scrutiny by taxing authorities requires that corporate tax departments provide accurate and timely information. Many companies are choosing Adams Harris during busy season and throughout the year to supply experienced tax talent to support their efforts to meet corporate tax reporting and filing deadlines. If you have a deadline, we have the resources to meet it.

Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA)

Recent legislation is having a significant impact in the context of the FCPA, which prohibits companies from engaging in certain practices, including bribery in foreign countries. Noncompliance with these regulations can result in multi-million dollar lawsuit settlements.

Avoid noncompliance with the help of Adams Harris professionals. We have the expertise in domestic and international anti-bribery and corruption to ensure that your organization is not at risk.

Our proven methodologies are utilized in the following services:

- Assessing compliance with an existing FCPA compliance program
- Establishing an effective and efficient FCPA compliance program
- Training and education
- Thought leadership

Why Adams Harris? Adams Harris is a professional services firm that offers a high value proposition by balancing the quality and experience of our professionals with affordable rates and flexible terms of engagement. We are the only call you need to make.
